THE LOCAL CAMPAIGN.

The Democrats are working hard in this county. They are leaving no voter untended who is open to persuasion. Their managers are cunning, shrewd, experienced, energetic men. The Democrats are spending money, spending it freely. They have prosecuted their campaign with vigor and thoroughness. Washoe county cannot be relied upon this year to give such a Republican majority as it has given in the past. The Democrats have colonized Franktown. They have packed Wadsworth. The Republican majority has decreased in Glendale. It has diminished in Reno. These are facts well known to the Republican candidates on the local ticket. It is of no use to conceal them.

If the Republicans want to win the coming election in Washoe county with flying colors, they must buckle down to work. Too easy a success in the past has created a confidence in their strength that may result in disappointment. The Democrats will poll every vote that they can muster. There are some disaffected Republicans, sore-headed because their favorite Presidential candidate was not nominated. We appeal to such to remember that there are great principles at issue in the approaching election. The choice of a President is not a personal matter. It is a choice between the representative of one party or the representative of the other.

We repeat that there is need on the part of the Republicans of a more active and stirring prosecution of the campaign in this county. It is not well to invite the public to a cold theater, to hear Republican oratory, and let the Democrats have the brass band, salutes, a comfortable hall and enthusiasm.

Individual action is, perhaps, after all, the most powerful agent in an election. Let every Republican do all he can, individually, to secure votes. The Independents and the Waverers are to be secured for one side or the other before the election takes place. Every Republican has the power to influence at least one vote, and that influence he should exert for the good of his country. Washoe county will roll up a handsome majority for the Republican ticket, if the proper effort is made.

PRESIDENTIAL POSSIBILITIES.

A correspondent of the Philadelphia Press gives the following speculative table of Presidential chances, which shows the possibilities of the pending canvass:

* Include Florida to show how small a vote might change the result.

Add to the Republican vote New York, and you have 201 votes, sixteen more than is requisite.

Add Indiana and Connecticut, leaving out New York, and you have two majorities.

Add Indiana and New Jersey, and you have five majorities.

Add Indiana and Florida, and you have just the required number.

Add Connecticut, New Jersey and

Florida, and there is a like result.

Add to the Democratic chances

New York, there is a deficiency of twelve votes.

Add New York and New Jersey, and they are still short three votes.

Add Connecticut, Indiana and New Jersey, and they are still short seventeen votes.

Add New York and Indiana, and there are three more votes than are necessary; but if Florida should go

Republican they are still one short.

The GAZETTE wishes that the Presidential election could be decided by a full vote, a free ballot and a fair

count in the Bishop's School for Girls in Reno. In that institution, all told,

there are about 40 Republicans to 6

Democrats. This shows that the rising generation is overwhelmingly Republican.

Census Bureau, says that the late census of South Carolina was substantially well taken. He considers the charges of fraud unfounded.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

In a sermon "The Foe of Matrimony," Talmage said, the other day, "A woman is surprised that she has not so much attention paid to her now as before marriage. Perhaps it would be different if she would take as much pains to make herself attractive as she did before marriage. That is, where women make a mistake when, because they are married, they give up all those little arts which, though indescribable, go to make up womanly attractiveness. Too many women make their charms a net for making one haul. After they have made one haul they throw the net away. You ought to make home a small heaven for your husband's perturbed spirit. Unwise, fretful, jealous women have filled one-half the club houses of America."

"Girl" writes to the ALA that "the Nevada Central Railroad has greatly benefited that whole country, and promises to do much more by extending its road through to Grantsville, and possibly further. This would certainly be a good idea, and a profitable one to its promoters. It would not alone facilitate travel, but enthrone new life into several promising old mining camps within a short distance of the road."

We hoped to have some news from Ohio and Indiana this afternoon, but we were disappointed, and as we go to press a San Francisco dispatch informs us that the wires have not been working well east of the mountains. The probabilities are that Indiana will go Democratic and that the Republicans will have a fair majority in Ohio.

The Baltimore and Ohio railroad has published and mailed to newspapers a handsome little book containing much interesting political matter and its own advertisements. It is very readable. Even the puff is interesting, and the figures are valuable. Any one can have a copy by writing to C. K. Lord, General Passenger Agent, Baltimore, Maryland.

The Annual Fair of the Plumas, Lassen, Sierra and Modoc Agricultural Association opened to-day in Greenville.

There were 14,000,000 acres of public land sold in 1879. There are 1,062,331,727 acres yet unsurveyed.

The Kinds of Grasshoppers They Have in Nebraska.

Correspondence New York Sun.

Grasshoppers, too, are abundant, but the regular Kansas hopper is not here in force. We have hoppers built after every model and dipped in nearly every color used by an artist. There then is the clown hopper dressed in a tight-fitting suit of red, white and green, in triangular patches, and the mouse-colored, fish-shaped hopper, with large yellow wings, who, during the heat of the day, sings as for dear life, dancing up and down in the air to his own music, haunting your house with the persistency of a bitter thought, and striving to amuse you in your noontime rest. He seems to be blissfully ignorant that he has not as yet mastered the first element of music, and that he knows but one note, and that is discord. His music is even worse than a would-be fiddler when you have the headache. Yet he will persist in his serenade, and did hate, brooms, hot water, and the like, flung at him with a vengeance, do not seem to discourage him. He endures all, braves all; and if he dies a martyr to his zeal for music, a hundred others are ready to take his place. The worst of it is that while one cannot sing more than five minutes without catching his breath, there are always some waiting to strike in where he leaves off. So they keep it up without intermission. If you walk over the prairie towards the wind, scores of grasshoppers fly up, and seem to aim straight for your nose, pelting you in the face like hail.

I wish everybody to know.

Rev. George H. Thayer, an old citizen in this vicinity, known to every one as a most influential citizen, and Christian Minister of the M. E. Church, just this moment stopped in our store to say, "I wish everybody to know that I consider that both myself and life owe our lives to Whitt's Consumption Cure."

NOTICES.

—Both political meetings showed a sprinkling of ladies last night.

—The mercury marked 23 degrees below freezing—at 7 A. M.

—Beef cattle are quoted at from 3 1/2 to 4 cents per pound in this market.

—Rev. Mr. Morgan's lecture on Egypt, illustrated by the stereopticon, will be delivered this evening in the Baptist church.

—The incessant and desperate firing of those shells by the Democrats last night sounded like the minute guns of a ship in distress.

—Jos. Frey has an old mare that saw the sunlight 33 years ago. He drives her with a 9-year-old son of hers that looks older than his mother.

—The cold of last night froze about three tons of apples on the trees in Mr. Morton's orchard, two miles from town. He will convert them into cider.

—The saying that "no Democrat can enter the White House" does not apply to the great clothing establishment of that name. The Reno White House is open to men of all shades of political opinion, and the proprietors recognize the right of all men to avail themselves of the opportunities the establishment presents for bargains.

J. & K. Stockholders' Meeting.

The annual meeting of the stockholders in the Jones & Kinkead Mining Company was held yesterday. On motion, the Board of Trustees was increased from three to five. The following were elected trustees: J. E. Jones, J. H. Kinkead, Robert M. Clarke, James Kinkead and C. A. Bragg. The officers elected are: President, Jas. H. Kinkead; Vice-President and Superintendent, J. E. Jones; Treasurer, Paxton, Curtis & Co.; Secretary, L. C. Bateholder.

A satisfactory report of the condition and prospects of the mine was read and approved.

Novel Cars.

A number of flat cars of peculiar construction were at the depot this morning. They were for the Carson & Colorado. The framework of these cars is almost entirely of iron. Lengths of iron piping, about 2 1/2 inches in diameter, run from end to end of the cars, and constitute their principal support. These new iron cars look very light, and are much more easily than the common wooden platform cars.

Changes Made by the Commissioners.

The County Commissioners yesterday accepted the resignation of W. F. Everett, as Registry Agent of Brown's precinct, and appointed B. S. James in his place. Daniel Huffaker having notified the Board that he could not serve as one of the Judges of election at Brown's, A. A. Longley was substituted. The Board adjourned to meet Nov. 11.

Congratulatory.

We take much pleasure in congratulating our enterprising druggists, Messrs. Osburn & Shoemaker, upon having secured the agency for Allen's Famous Toilet Soap, and California Face Powder, and California Face and Scalp Powders. These new products are of the highest quality, and we call particular attention to the California Face Powder, which is the best of all others. The Toilet Soap has already become a household word, and all the ladies recommend it for its purity.

REPUBLICAN BALLY.

Speeches by Hon. C. S. Varian and Judge Whitman in the Theatre Last Evening.

Although the theatre was uncomfortably cold last evening, a good audience gathered in response to the call for a Republican meeting. The meeting was called to order at 7:45, and Hon. C. S. Varian appointed to the chair. Mr. Varian briefly addressed the assemblage, calling attention to the importance of the issue to be decided in November. He said it was not a matter of personal choice between the candidates, but a question of parties and principle. He declared that the election of Hancock would mean the elevation to power of the Southern Democracy. He reviewed the changes that have taken place in the vote of the South, ascribing them to the effect of Democratic bulldozing. In Alabama, which in 1876 polled nearly 92,000 Republican votes, not a Republican vote was polled in 1878. In Arkansas 40,000 Republican ballots were cast in 1876 and now not one. Mr. Varian denounced the census frauds in the South, made in order to gain increased Democratic representation in Congress. He showed that in the event of Democratic success next month a Democratic Supreme Court would result, and sketched the evils that would follow from such an important change. He closed with an eloquent appeal to the voters to support the Republican ticket, saying: "It is not the man, but the party and the Nation that calls upon you." Judge B. C. Whitman, of Virginia, was then introduced as one of the first speakers on the Coast.

JUDGE WHITMAN'S SPEECH.

The Judge said he could appear in no higher or holier cause than that of the Republican party. It is necessary to the freedom of the whole world that the Republican party should continue in power. The speaker reviewed the Republican State ticket, referring to Beatty as an upright, fearless and impartial Judge, and to Daggett as a man unswayed by no corporation, a fearless and ardent friend of the people. The speaker declared the Republican party to be the party of the power of the people, and that its candidates for President and Vice-President are illustrious exponents of all that is best in the party. Garfield and Arthur were eulogized in glowing terms. The speaker said that the personal character of Garfield needs no defense, pronouncing him the peer of any man in the United States.

The Judge reviewed the history of the Republican party from the time it was called into existence when Buchanan was saying there no power in the National government to coerce a sovereign State, up to the present. He showed the folly of the Democratic argument for a change, and exposed the hollowness of the pretence that the Democratic party is the poor man's party. The Republican was defined to be the party that acts and the Democratic party the party that professes. The Republican party is the party of principles; the Democratic the party of shams and pretences, with no fixed principles. The speaker, in illustration, showed how the Democrats had stultified themselves by crying "fraud" for four years and then failing to nominate Tilden or Hendricks. He demonstrated the "fraud" issue to be nothing but a sham by giving a history of the appointment of the Electoral Commission. The speaker laid upon the shoulders of the Democratic party the responsibility of the war; showed their unsoundness upon the question of finance, ridiculed their readiness to fuse and affiliate with any faction to gain votes, and denied their willingness to accept the vote of prohibitionists. "They know," said he, "that the prohibitionists would destroy them. What, for God's sake, would the Democrats do without liquor?"

The Judge referred to Hancock as merely a figure head, saying that English was really the Democratic ticket, and denounced English as the "dirtiest Copperhead and usurper in the United States." There never was a meaner white man willing to lick the dust off the boots of the Southern chivalry. English was also called a "man-eating shark of a usurper."

There are Southern claims before Congress to the amount of $2,000,000, the Judge said. He believed that, in any event, of Hancock's election, they would be pressed for payment. Referring to the bill introduced by Manning of Mississippi to add twelve Judges to the Supreme Court, the speaker affirmed that Democratic Judges would overthrow the 12th, 14th and 15th Constitutional Amendments. No leading Democratic lawyer had ever acknowledged that these amendments were legally and formally adopted. Judge Wallace of California once said they were not publicly.

The speaker said the 138 votes of the Solid South meant the deprivation of the ballot from 600,000 Republican voters in the South. "We are a nation of fools, and deserve to be damned, if we don't put a stop to this outrage," cried the Judge.

Judge Whitman spoke for upwards of an hour, eliciting, as did Mr. Varian, frequent expressions of applause. Space will allow merely an incomplete outline of the speeches. At the conclusion of the Judge's address, the meeting broke up with three cheers and a tiger for Garfield and Arthur.

Great Lumbering Operations—The New Incline of the S. N. W. & L. Co. at Lake Tahoe.

The incline of the Sierra Nevada Wood & Lumber Co., at Lake Tahoe, will be finished in about two weeks. It will handle 300 cords a day. They have about a dozen cars that will hold a cord and a half each. The cable runs over the top of the car and hitches on top of the hind end. It is an endless cable of steel, an inch and an eighth in diameter. The engine is at the top, and has 40 horse power. The wood is cut north of Cornelian Bay, a mile from the water. It is run in a flume to the foot of the incline, 9 miles, then up the hill 1,700 feet on the incline. Then it goes in a flume through the Water Co.'s tunnel to Lakeview on the V. & T. R. R. A good steam saw mill that will average 40,000 feet a day stands at the foot of the incline, half a mile from the lake shore. They have been cutting railroad ties and a big lot of flume lumber. There is talk of building a railroad along the shore of the lake to the north, where the company has fine timber. The railroad would be used for hauling logs, etc. The company's works are all in Washoe county, and they employ about 60 men. That would be a bonanza for the office seekers. The registrar was over the other day and enrolled the voters. There has been a good wagon road built out to Franktown. It goes right out both ends of the tunnel. A trip over it is second only to a visit to Yosemite.

An Impressive Spectacle Last Night.

Through the agency of the Reno Brass Band, and the incessant firing of anvils, the Democrats made a good deal of noise last night. They built a large fire in Virginia street, opposite Reform Club hall. The bright flames lighted up the splendid Garfield and Arthur banner stretched across the street, illuminating the words of the Republican Presidential ticket so that they could be read a block away. The glow of the firelight brought out strongly the grand intellectual features of Garfield, and showed to advantage the fine, benevolent countenance of Arthur. The effect was most excellent. The picture of that beautiful banner, swaying in the evening breeze, with the firelight playing upon it, will endure in the memory of all who beheld it until long after the November election.

While the fire was burning, a number of Democrats strayed up stairs, and were addressed by Messrs. Lowery and Kirkpatrick, General Hagerman presiding.

Some Light on The Suicide.

Coroner Jones has ascertained something that will probably lead to the complete identification of the man found dead in the tunnel. He learns that a man named Alek Welsh came to town with the deceased and had a money transaction with him. He learned the same night. A letter has been written to him, and it is believed that he can throw some light on the matter.

New Saloon.

Gooch's Delta saloon, next door to Nathan's store on Virginia street, opened up this morning. William Illidge is the manager. At eight o'clock this evening a fine lunch of roast pig, turkey and chicken will be spread. The saloon has a central situation, is in popular hands, and should get a good share of public patronage. It is well fitted up, and provided with the best of everything in its line. The painting has been very well done by Clark & Haynes.

BY TELEGRAPH.

Question as to J. G. Fair's Residence.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12. In the case of John H. Burke vs. the bonanza firm, the order for J. G. Fair to show just cause why he should not be punished for contempt, in not testifying before Justice Knox, came up to-day. Fair's counsel claimed he was not a resident of the State of California, while counsel for plaintiff alleged that he was, with his family, a resident of San Francisco. The Court took the question of residence under consideration, and continued the case.

Dividend Declared.

Golden Terra declares a dividend of 25 cents.

No News From the Elections.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12, 3:15 P. M. The Eastern wires are working badly. No telegraphic report to-day.

SACRAMENTO, October 12.

Hon. H. F. Page addressed a crowded and enthusiastic meeting here last night. There was an immense torch-light procession of men in uniform.

Anniversary Celebration.

To-day is the fifth anniversary of the Bishop's School for Girls. The young ladies have been allowed a holiday, and nearly all accepted a kind invitation from Mrs. B. F. Leeto to spend the day at her house. This evening there will be a gathering of all the pupils at the Seminary, for social amusement. No gentlemen are invited, and the young ladies do not betray a very lively interest in the party.

The following verses, commemorative of the occasion, were written by a member of the school, and are sung by the pupils to music arranged by Miss Quaffle:

As life its long story unfoldeth,
Some pages we love to read,
All bright with radiant promise,
All gloomy with valiant deed;
Which speak to our hearts of the good,
The purpose, lofty and true,
Inspiring the best of God's creatures
His work in the world to do.

CHORUS.
O, twelfth of October, we greet thee!
Fair day in our school apart!
Be ours to fulfill the high purpose
Enshrined in our founder's heart.

Each festival day celebration
Brings respite from toil and rule.
All holiday making we cherish,
As very best part of school.
Dear days of glad frolic and freedom,
With no hard lessons to learn,
No "must" or "must not" full of menace
To threaten at every turn.
A dozen glad twelves of October
Shall be in the schools we found.
Thanksgivings and Washington's Birthdays.
And jolly times all shall abound.
Meantime with the best grace submitting.
To old-fashioned custom and rule,
With will let us work at our studies
For sake of ourselves and school.

Swift Railroad.

Two cars got away from the men at the head of the Sierra Nevada Wood & Lumber company's incline at Lake Tahoe, a week ago last Friday. They fairly flew down the track, which rises 8 feet in every twelve, making the mile and a half in the quickest time on record. There was nothing to be seen but a streak of fire streaming out behind them. They struck the big pile of trees that stood at the bottom of the road, the cars were demolished utterly. Wheels axles and timbers flew into little pieces. Some timbers which were on the cars were splintered into matches. A 1X12 board struck one of the trees 20 feet from the ground and pierced it far enough to support it, and it sticks there yet. The trees were cut and bruised up to a depth of 7 or 8 inches. The accident was caused by overwinding the clutch brake.

Personals.

Mr. Lux, of Lux & Miller, went below this morning.

Neither Sharon nor Fair came up from the Bay this morning.

R. B. Walker and R. Ammerman, of the Nevada Central, journeyed to Virginia this morning.

The Antelope Mill.

The Huntington Crusher for the Antelope mine in Long valley arrived yesterday from San Francisco, and was freighted out to the mine to-day. It will be set up and running in a few weeks. Capt. Griffin was in town to-day. Everything is all right at the mine.

We Can't Talk.

Without showing the condition of our teeth. Every laugh exposes them. In order not to be ashamed of them, let us use that standard dentifrice, SOZODONT, which is sure to keep them white and spotless. No tartar can encrust them, no canker affect the enamel, no species of decay infect the dental bone. SOZODONT is, really, need. It is a botanical preparation, and its beneficial effects on the teeth and gums are marvelous, as it removes all discolorations, and renders the gums hard and rosy.
